Professional Statement (CyberSecurity)

I am taking my computer science skills which have led me to become strong in scripted languages like JavaScript and Python and my meticulous nature to cybersecurity. In this role I can more accurately do what I wished to do when I first got into computer programming. Solve problems and constantly learn. With this realignment I will resonate more with my work and deliver even better results compared to my past jobs. With this drive, I hope you see that I can support your organization (prospective employer).

Thank you,

Ethan Guttman
